

INDUSTRIAL PEACE UP TO WILSON ONCE MORE

Labor Leaders Walk Out Of Conference and It's All Up To Sick Man Again

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 23.—Out of the wreck of the National Industrial Conference, President Wilson today sought to build new machinery to bring about industrial peace in the country. In a message to Chairman Lane he asked the public representatives in the conference to continue at work and report to him. It is the hope of the President and other administration officials that the public delegates, appointed by Wilson and who represent both employers and workers, can formulate a definite program, which will be acceptable to labor and capital. Meanwhile President Gompers, of the American Federation of Labor, in a statement reiterated that unless the employers group in the conference agreed to the declaration that the workers, without discrimination, had a right to organize, it is worse than useless for labor's representatives to continue the deliberations.

After announcing he had received Wilson's message, Chairman Lane declared the conference as originally constituted, adjourned and immediately called the members of the public group into session as a new conference. Lane told the delegates the withdrawal of the labor group, changed the nature of the conference. He said the President desired the public group to remain in session to carry on the work inasmuch as the burden of industrial disputes fall to carry on the public.

"I know," he said, "the people of the United States are greater than any part of that people and as a body they will move forward, regardless of clashes between interests."

Representatives of capital were called upon to meet and determine a course. Some thought there is nothing farther for them to do. Others thought a statement should be issued to make their position clear.

When Labor Group Withdrew

Washington, Oct. 23.—Labor withdrew from the National Industrial Conference last night, after its final effort to obtain adoption of a collective bargaining resolution had been defeated by the vote of a majority of the capital group.

Although the representatives of both public and capital announced their intention of remaining in the conference, the next move in the effort to restore industrial peace, to the country evidently rested with President Wilson.

Withdrawal of the labor group was announced by Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, after a dramatic speech.

When the conference was convened in the afternoon the labor group offered the following resolution:

"The right of wage earners to organize without discrimination, to bargain collectively, to be represented by representatives of their own choosing in negotiations and adjustments with employers in respect to wages, hours of labor and relations and conditions of employment is recognized."

In introducing the resolution Gompers declared President Wilson's letter to the conference demonstrated "the mind of the President is as clear as ever during his entire life, and it indicates to us that he will be restored to the nation and to the world soon in the full power of his wonderful mind and intellect."

Under a suspension of the rules the resolution immediately was brought to discussion and vote, the labor and public groups uniting in its support on the roll call. The majority against the resolution in the capital group was one vote, but under the conference rules this majority was sufficient to defeat the resolution.

GRAND JURY TO PROBE PIE SUPPER CUTTING

About 20 witnesses have been summoned to appear before the grand jury which reconvenes next Monday, the 27th, to tell what they know about the cutting and wounding of Robert Watts, a Winchester boy, at the Bethel school pie supper a few nights ago. Young Watts accompanied Miss Nora Allen, of this city, to the affair, and soon after they arrived several young men began to annoy him. He says that he rubbed or brushed against one going into the door, but apologized. However, the apology was not accepted, and from then on Watts was made a target to their abuse and annoyance. The young man, a stranger, stood it as long as he could and then walked outside and told his tormentors, it is said, that if any one had anything against him that he was there to settle it. Three of them are said to have jumped him, and one drew a knife and tried to cut his throat. Watts did not know their names, but witnesses are said to know them all and their cases will be investigated by the grand jury first thing Monday.

ALEX PARRISH WINS THE BENCH SHOW

Alex Parrish's good hound, "Roman" almost swept the platter clean in the bench show at the Central Kentucky Fox Hunter's Association meeting, which has been a delightful affair at College Hill this week. The all-aged stake was started Wednesday but was not concluded and the dogs are still running Thursday. At the last scoring Wednesday, Jap Chenault's dog was leading. The meet will probably wind up today with the conclusion of this stake.

SCHOOL RALLY IS POSTPONED

Inclement Weather Causes Date To Be Moved Forward To Friday Oct. 31st

The school rally parade and the formal opening of the Madison High School have all been postponed on account of the weather until Friday, October 31st. It was decided Thursday morning that even though the weather clears up the streets will be muddy and it will not be possible to have the outdoor program on the campus of the High school in the afternoon. A band had been engaged for the occasion, but the whole program including band parade and exercises at the High school will be held intact for Friday, October 31st. Every patron in the county should help the teacher in his district in transporting the children to and from Richmond on the 31st. The big excuse offered by teachers who offered any excuse at all was the transportation problem. It should be solved by the patrons of each district who can prepare two horse wagons to bring the children to Richmond. It will be a great treat for the children and a day that they will long remember. Their little hearts will be made glad with anticipation of the event. There are 68 schools in the county. Let there be 68 schools in the parade.

COAL MINERS' STRIKE TO SKIP KENTUCKY

(By Associated Press) Knoxville, Tenn., Oct. 23.—Officials attending the convention of District 19 of the United Mine Workers, which includes Eastern Kentucky, said today that coal production will not cease in the mines of the district even if a nation-wide strike of bituminous miners becomes effective November 1st.

Mine Workers Reject Proposal

(By Associated Press) Washington, Oct. 23.—Bulletin—The United Mine Workers of America today formally rejected Secretary Wilson's proposal for a settlement of the coal strike called for November 1st. President Lewis announced the proposal is indefinite, inadequate and failed to meet the situation and would so report to the joint conference this afternoon.

Meanwhile before the joint conference began, it was announced the operators had accepted the Wilson plan for settlement of the strike. The miners issued a statement declaring the propositions of both Secretary Wilson and the operators were not only alike, but both follow Senator Frelinghuysen's speech in the Senate, "in which he undertook to disclose a basis on which the operators would deal with the miners." The statement called it an extraordinary coincidence.

WELL, WELL, EDDIE ASKED FOR PASS, TOO

Harry Myers Wrote L. & N. At Morrow's Request To Get Pass For Stenographer

Much has been said in the present gubernatorial campaign about passes being asked for by the Democrats. One pass asked for by a Democrat, a whiskey Democrat, who in the general assembly has held the interests of the liquor men of the state supreme above everything else, the Democrat who prevented the enactment of the anti-handbook bill in the last legislature, who boldly admitted on the floor of the House that he "played poker" at times, has not had any attention at the hands of the Republican boiler plate artists.

This Democrat is H. J. Myers, of Covington. Myers wrote this letter to Bob Fleming, attorney and legislative agent of the L. & N. railroad at Frankfort. It is said by those who have been careful observers at Frankfort during the legislative sessions, that Myers was very successful in obtaining passes for his friends. Here is his letter:

Dear friend Bob: Please send me pass for Mrs. Goldie Reardon from Covington, Ky., to Trenton, Ky., and return. Now Bob, this lady is Ed Morrow's stenographer and I am getting this on Ed and Maurice Galvin's request. Mr. Galvin is doing his best to get off all opposition to me, so please rush it at once, as you know the good it will do me. Your true friend, HARRY J. MYERS

This letter became public through the investigation of L. & N. passes by a committee of the senate. It is on record and was printed in the report of the investigation.

ILLINOIS LABOR SAYS START FIGHT NOW

(By Associated Press) Peoria, Ill., Oct. 23.—Following the withdrawal of the labor group from the Industrial Conference at Washington, the Illinois State Federation of Labor in convention today, authorized a message to Gompers and members of the Federation's executive council, urging immediate call for a special convention of the American Federation of Labor in Washington. The message urges that representatives of the Railway Brotherhoods be invited to participate with the object of "perfecting an offensive and defensive alliance of an International Union of the United States and Canada to more effectively fight out the life and death struggle of workers now in progress and impending." They would levy an assessment on every union worker of not less than a fourth of his earnings and on every officer of unions of 50 per cent of his salary "until the objects of this drive have been accomplished."

MARTIN NOT COMING HERE WITH BARKLEY

Former Senator George B. Martin, who was at first advertised to speak here with Senator Stanley, was unable to come either, and Congressman Alben W. Barkley will be the only speaker tonight. It had been planned by a number of ladies of Richmond to give a reception in honor of Senator Martin, who attended old Central University here, and was a classmate of a number of them. In view of the fact that Senator Martin was unable to come here, the reception was called off.

Congressman Barkley speaks at 7:30 o'clock at the court-house tonight, and everyone is invited to hear him. Barkley is one of the outstanding leaders in the Kentucky congressional delegation, a splendid speaker and there with the punch.

Hon. William H. Shanks, of Stanford, spoke to a good sized crowd at Berea Tuesday night, in the interest of the Democratic ticket. Hon. Charles I. Dawson, who was here Wednesday afternoon, spoke for the republicans at Berea Wednesday night.

THIS LISTENS WELL TO TOBACCO GROWERS

Will Luxon, of the Home Tobacco Warehouse, has just received a very nice note from his friend R. P. Holt, who is connected with the tobacco breaks at Rocky Mount, N. C. Mr. Holt writes that his floor averaged 62 cents pound Oct. 15th and the sales all week have averaged from 58 to 65 cents. This is for the same grades of tobacco that this time last year were selling in North Carolina at 35c averages. The trend of the tobacco market in North Carolina makes prospects seem bright for the Kentucky growers.

The Lexington tobacco market will open Tuesday, December 2. This means that the Richmond market will probably open Dec. 3rd, though this is not certain yet. Judging from the prices offered by buyers in the field, warehousemen are of the opinion market prices will be as high as they were last year and probably higher for the best grades of tobacco.

Democratic white is black, if he doesn't know any better. Franks will have a lot to say about Democratic "mismanagement" and "extravagance" but won't mention, very probably, the fact that Kentucky was completely out of debt when Gus Willson, the last republican governor, went into office, and when he left it, the old state was "head over heels" on the wrong side of the ledger. But that's politics, of course, and the dyed-in-the-wool partisans like it. However, the thinking voter isn't fooled by one-sided claptrap no matter how eloquent the speaker may be.

No ordinary cigarette, this. Mellow as an old friend, but rich with flavor—the kind that goes right to the spot.

Our own buyers in the Orient select for us the choicest Turkish leaf. We blend with this several varieties of specially selected Domestic tobacco. This blending—by a secret method—brings out new qualities of flavor that other and less expert methods fail to find.

That's what we mean by "satisfy"—an entirely new kind of smoking enjoyment that you get in Chesterfields only—nowhere else; for the blend is a closely guarded secret. It can't be copied.

This is due to the increased cost of building materials, the price of labor and teams, so that now it costs two or three times as much to build roads per mile as formerly. Good roads are absolutely necessary in these times of rapid transit. Good roads are really an investment, as they raise the value of every man's land they pass. They promote good morals, education and religion. They promote social intercourse, by bringing widely separate communities into closer social relationship. They promote good morals by arousing the civic pride of the communities through which they pass. They promote education by enabling good attendance at school during bad weather, which, because of swollen streams and lack of bridges, sometimes brings school work to a standstill in back-districts where mud roads abound. They promote church service by encouraging better means of travel, ushering in the rubber tired vehicles, buggies and automobiles, which have revolutionized society by greatly increasing the joy and happiness of the hard-working rural folks. It is well for us to look at good roads from a military standpoint. Today our sky of peace is clear, but who can tell what clouds war tomorrow may arise. Good roads saved France, but the great Russian army caught in the quagmires of Southern Russia were crushed by the German military machine. Selfishness and greed lead to war; and the world is still full of it, and the time may come as remote as it may now seem when we Americans may need good roads for military purposes. Have you forgotten last winter when the "flu" was raging and threatened the life of the American people? Have you forgotten how people died because our heroic doctors could not reach them on account of mud holes, snowdrifts and washouts? Before you make up your minds to tax against the twenty cents tax, think on these things.
